Shingles (Zoster): Can We Prevent it?

Tuesday, March 8th, 2011
2:30 pm-3:30 pm
3rd Floor, Auditorium

Join Iris Gorfinkel, a family physician, in an informative health seminar on Shingles. Herpes Zoster, commonly known as Shingles, is a reactivation of chicken pox characterized by heightened symptoms. Older adults beyond 70 years of age have a one in three chance of developing infection, while those in their 80's have a one in two chance. At this presentation you will become more aware of the viral disease, learn about early treatment and the possibility of vaccination.
